Help & Advice

Drawing on our many years of experience, we have tried to share with you all we know about how to get the best firework display you can. If you just need some simple, friendly advice about firework displays please give us a call on 0845 094 9170 or Email info@magicandmiracle.com

Firstly you'll need to find out if your desired venue allows fireworks. The easiest way to find out if fireworks are possible at a venue is to ask if they have had fireworks before. If a venue hasn't had fireworks before, but are willing to have them, then all our displays include a site survey and risk assessment. Once this is complete we will decide if the site is suitable and any limitations that the site may impose.

Planning a budget for your firework display.

For budgeting purposes your firework display budget really needs to start at £450 plus VAT for a five-minute display.

Duration

The amount of time you need for a display is often a lot shorter than you would imagine. Of course it's your show, so you can have as long as you want. However we would always recommend packing more fireworks into a shorter period, rather than trying to stretch out the time. Based on 30 years of experience we suggest the ideal duration is between 5 and 7 minutes, with a max of 12 minutes.

Good design makes all the difference

Whatever the budget, don't underestimate the value and skill of display design required to take the raw materials and create a stunning and memorable display.

All our firework displays are expertly choreographed to music. It will enhance the overall enjoyment of your show considerably, especially if the music is special to you. We offer 4 packages as a guide to budgeting your display.
